

How to run the sample file.

1. Save `program1_example.exe` to your computer (right click on the link, select save link as, and notice where the file is saved).
2. Navigate to the folder where you saved the file.
3. Shift+Right Click on an open area of the folder (not on any file) to open a context menu.

4. Select “Open Command Window Here” on the context menu.
5. At the command prompt, type `program1_example` and hit enter.

Experiment with the program. Your program should give the same results as the example program.
